THIS IS WEST END

FOREWORD

Every year since 1930, the lofty halls of West End High have been filled with high-spirited Lions.

When the class of 1967's turn came to enter we were overawed by the enormous size of these halls and the decorative posters that welcomed us as Freshmen. Although told that we were ready for the responsibility of high school work, we were hesitant to accept it. As we trudged on into Sophomore year, we began to realize the role that West End High would play in the development of our lives. Another year — and we were Juniors who accepted whole-heartedly the ideals set before us. We had become a vital part of our school. The Baby Lions were children no longer!

Now, in Senior year, we have gained a new pride and an exuberance of spirit, both of which were unknown to us before. Our enthusiasm is unexcelled. We have grown in stature, mind, and spirit in the brief span of four years. Yet, this is not the end. It is merely the beginning, a dress rehearsal for tomorrow's show. Soon we shall depart, each to play his part upon a larger stage.

In after years, when time has dimmed the memory of our sojourn at West End High, perhaps this book will serve to reconstruct in retrospect our happy years within THESE HALLOWED HALLS.

DEDICATION

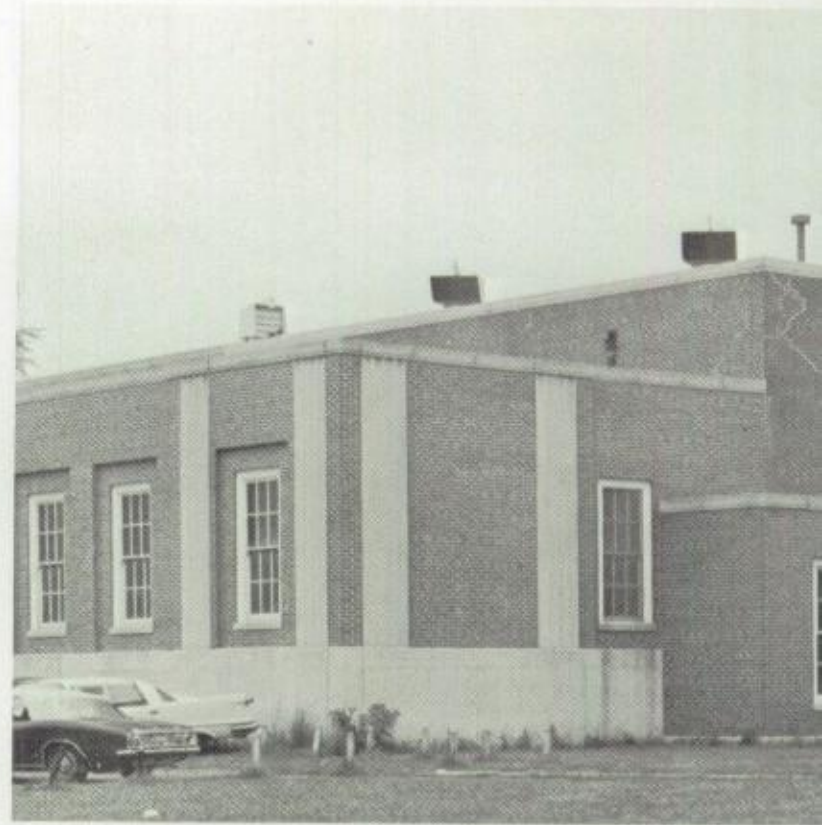

To one who gives her time and asks nothing for it,
To one who leads her students down the pathway of learning,

To one who serves our school whole-heartedly,
To one who supports the high standards of West End
High School,

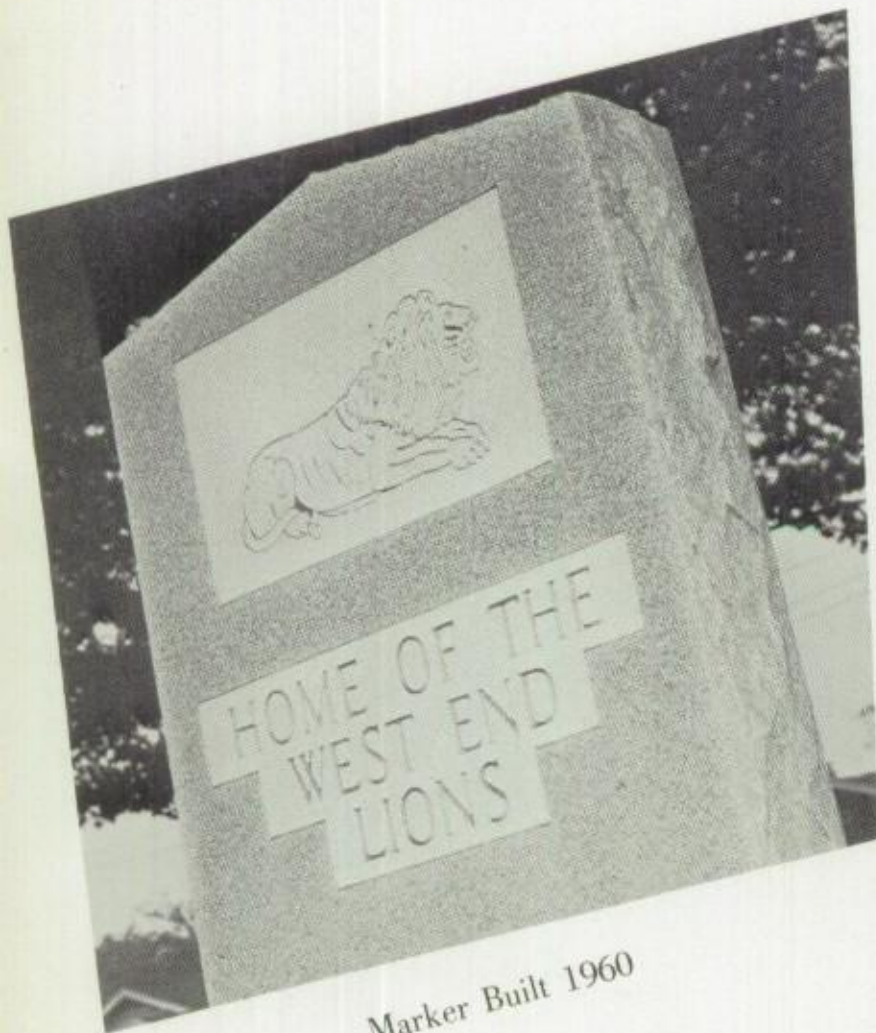

To one who is dear to the hearts of all her students,
We the Seniors of 1967 dedicate this our edition of the Resume to you, Mrs. Martha L. Tranthum.

THANK YOU

MRS. BETTY BROWN

For your competent handling of our bank;

For your patient attitude and gentle understanding;

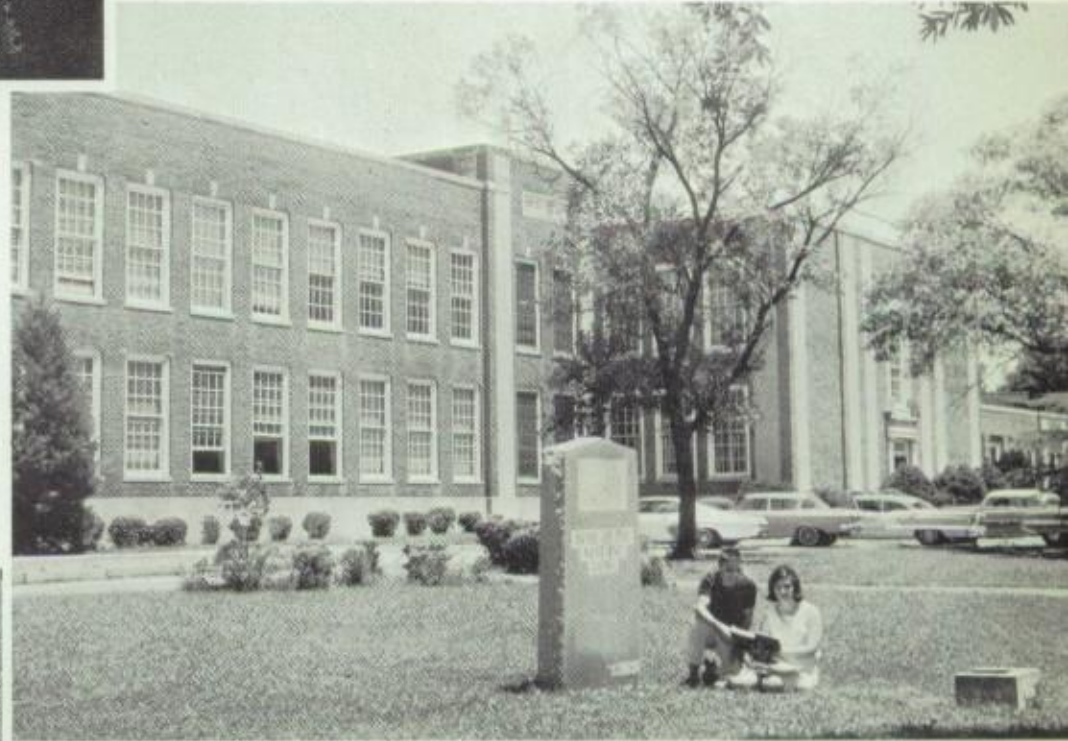

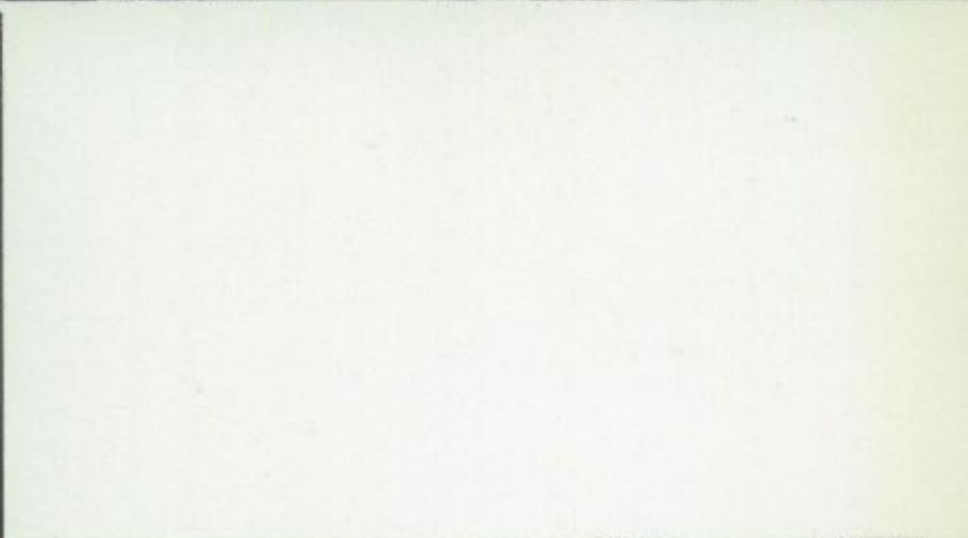

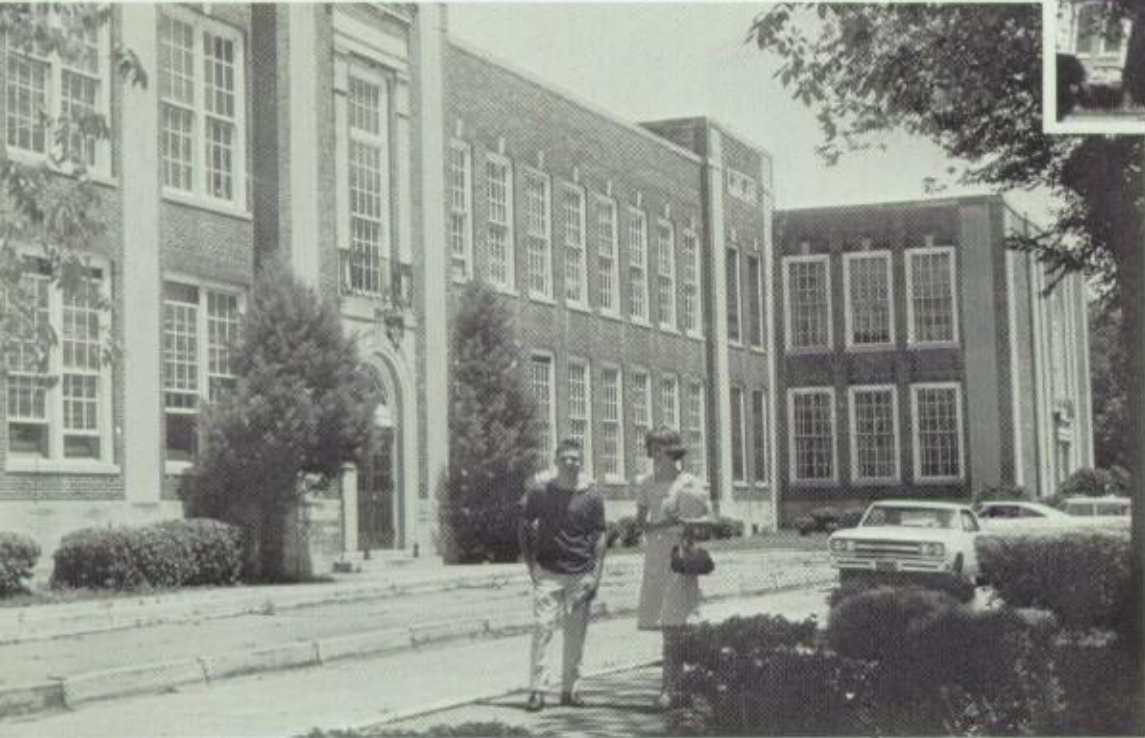

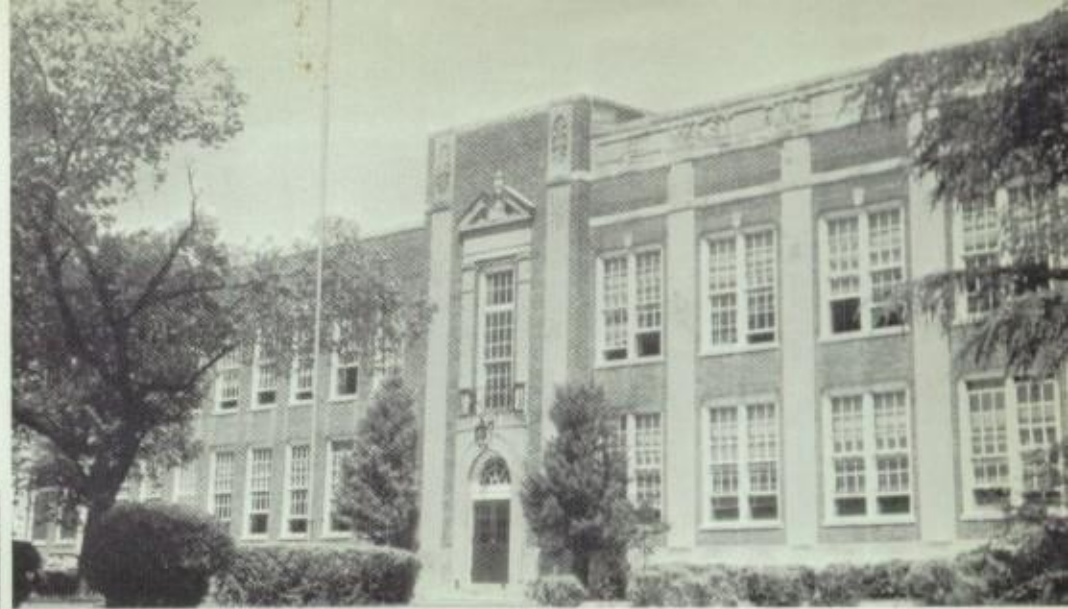

For your genuine interest you have taken in your students;

For your constant cheerfulness of spirit;

For your determined drive to help others attain excellence;

We thank you, Mrs. Brown, and hope that you will recall your years with the Class of '67 as happily as these years will be remembered by us.

*THESE ARE

THANK YOU

MISS JANE SHELL

Your faithful and valued service, to both the WELION and the RESUME, has made you virtually indispensable.

Your practical and understanding ways in every situation have been a rock of security within our school.

Your magnanimity in all things has shown us the way to unselfishness.

Your consideration for each student and your devotion to West End High School have been a quiet but moving power among us.

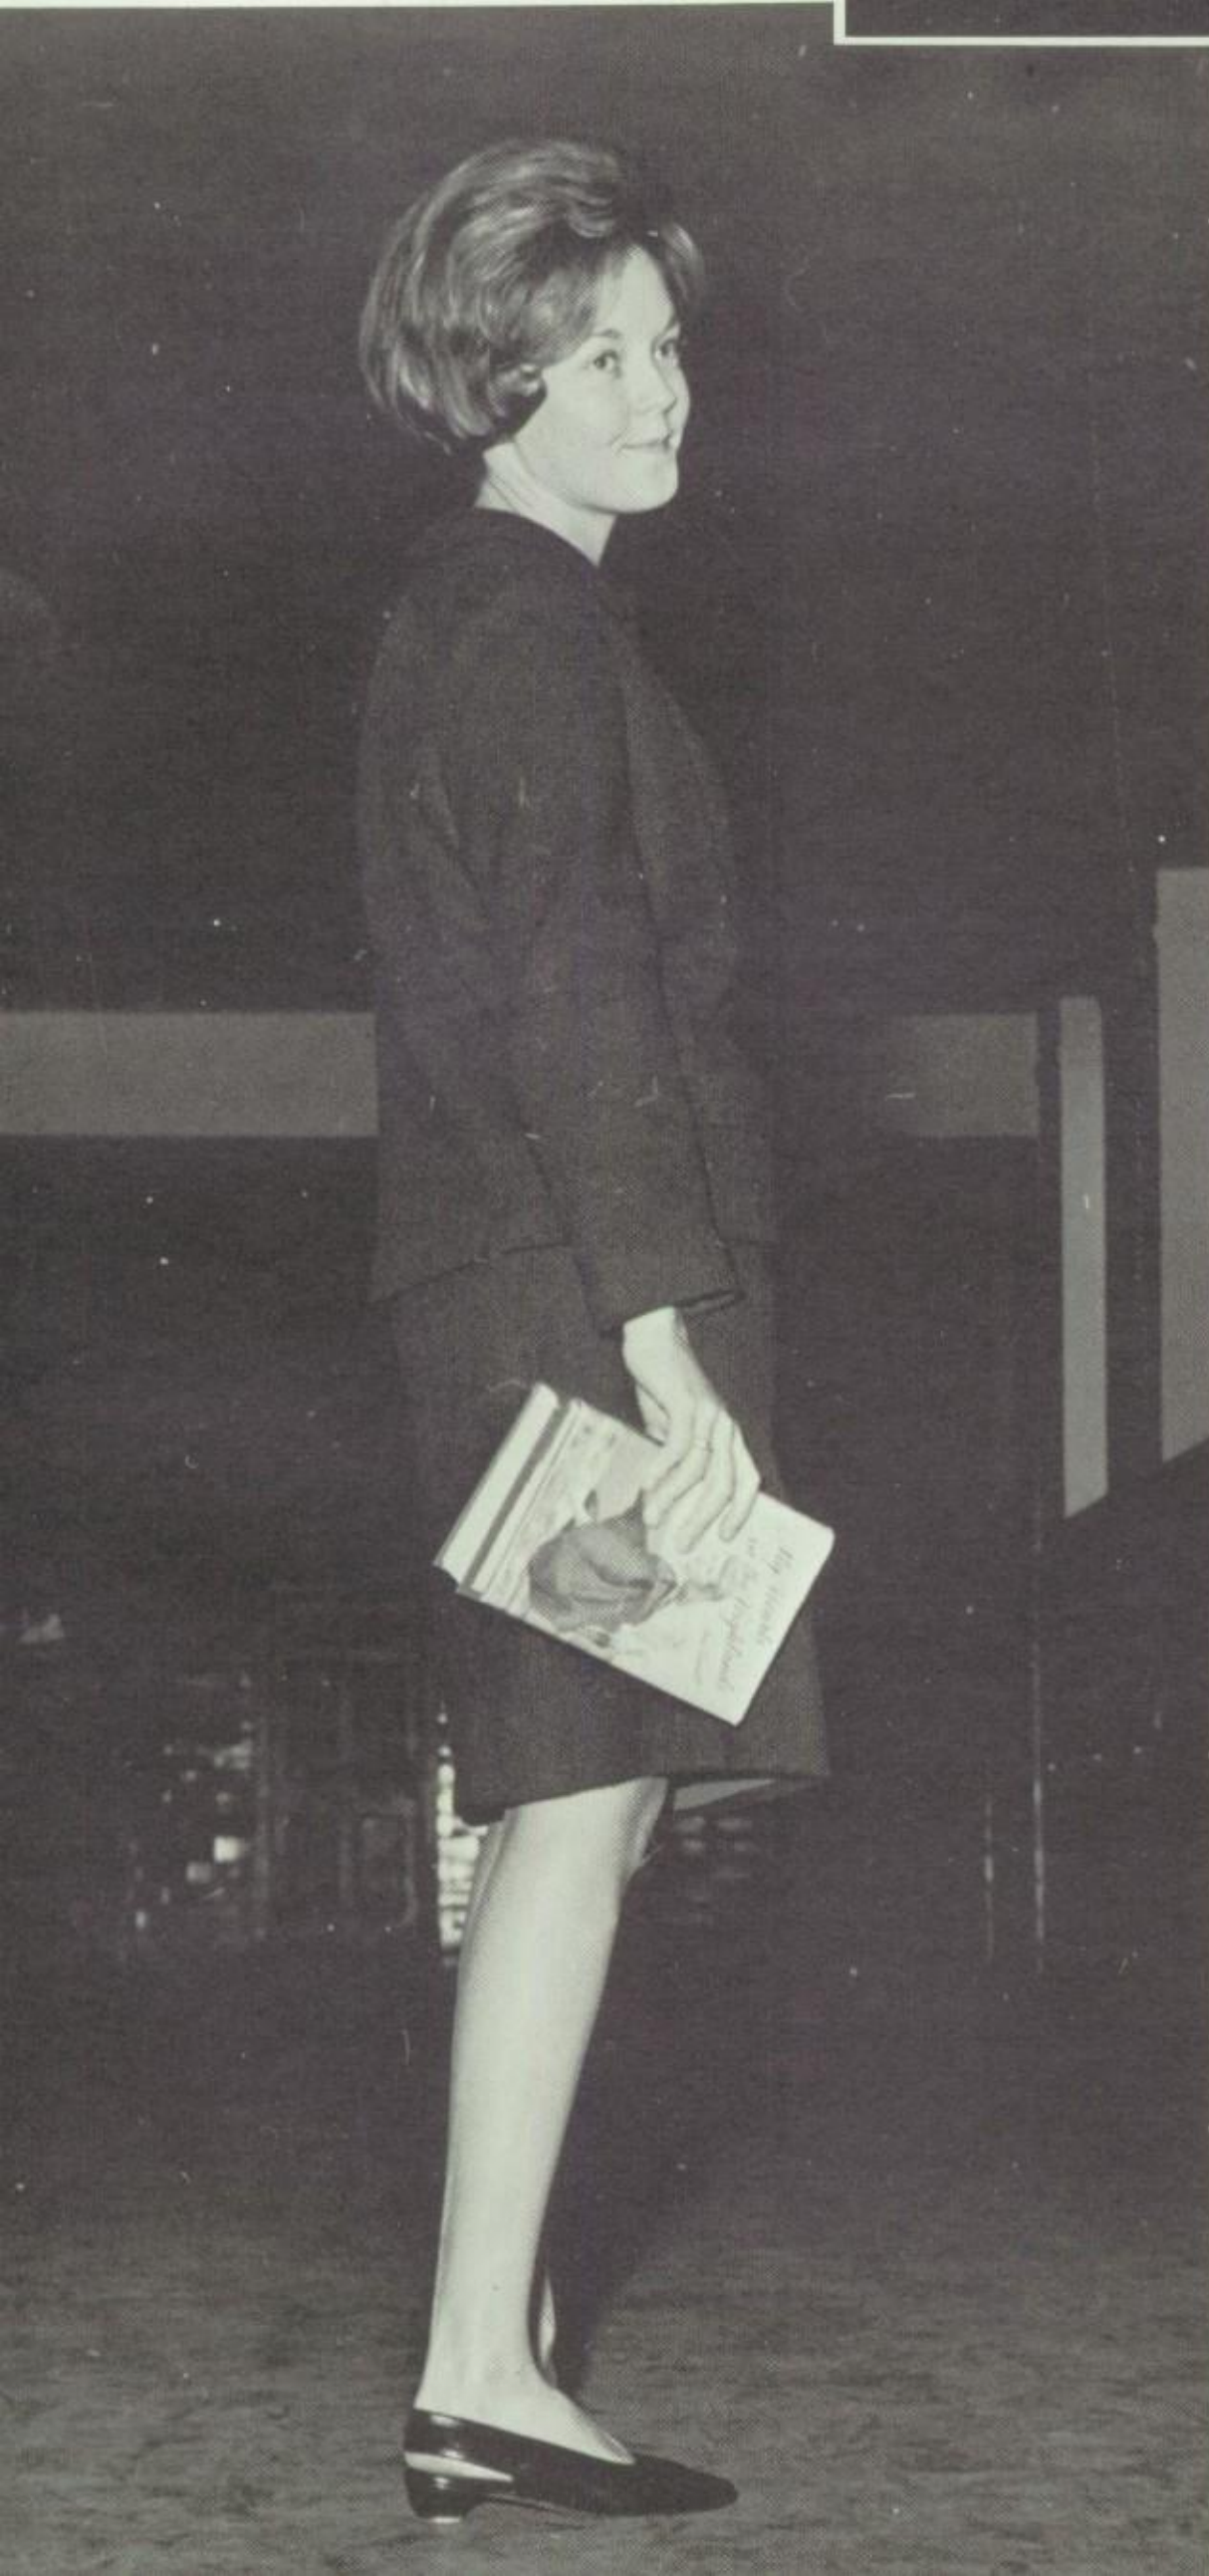

For these things, Miss Shell, we are forever grateful.

"The pursuit of foreign languages is the key to many doors of happiness — among them an appreciation of art and culture, and an understanding of the dynamics of history, but above all the ability to meet, know, and live in peace with people of other lands.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

Gary Wallace, Glenda Baker, Linda Carroll, Terrell Cowart.

The Red Cross, a service organization performing services for school and community, was active during the fall semester of 1966. We sponsored the United Appeal Campaign. Next came our Thanksgiving project. Baskets of food were given to needy families. Christmas we filled boxes with gifts to be given to the Veterans Administration Hospital in Tuscaloosa. We also sponsored the March of Dimes Campaign.

The Bank Board of Directors is a group of business-minded young men and women united to keep the school bank functioning properly and to interest the students in saving. OUTSTANDING SENIORS

STEVE BARKER

Steve Barker has earned the title of Outstanding Senior in every respect. He truly has been outstanding in West End High School. Steve has served our school as Boys Vice-President, President of the Hi-Y, as a member of the cabinet and council, as a marshall, as a student registrar, as a Student Teacher, and as a library assistant. He also has contributed greatly to the Science Club, in which he has served in various offices and as a delegate to the Alabama Junior Academy of Science. Steve has given service as a campaign manager and has appeared on numerous assemblies. His outstanding extracurricular and scholastic record have earned him the honor of being tapped into both the Junior and National Honor Societies. Also, outside of school, he was chosen a member of the Sears Teen Board.

Steve is friendly and popular also. He was chosen Mr. West End and Most Artistic in the Senior Who's Who.

We at West End know that Steve Barker will continue his excellent record in the future and will go far in his chosen field.

STELLA COCORIS

From the very beginning of her years here at West End, Stella Cocoris has impressed both her fellow students and her teachers as being truly outstanding. Her sincere earnestness to please, her scholastic ability, and her warm personality make her a real favorite and born leader.

Stella was named Outstanding Freshman in her second semester. She was tapped into the Junior Honor Society in her third semester, and the National Honor Society in her seventh semester.

Her leadership ability is proven by the fact that she has served as president of the Latin Club and Thespian, vice-president of Masque & Gavel, a member of the Cabinet & Council, and president of her session room. She was also chairman of "Operation Pride".

Among her many achievements in school, Stella has participated in four major plays, numerous one-act plays, assemblies, Stunt Night, and has to her credit two Speech Letters. She was chosen Most Ambitious for her title in the Senior Who's Who and ambitious she is.

Stella, the Seniors wish you the best of luck in fulfilling your ambition and hope you have happiness and success in the future.
